GUIDANCE NOTES — remove these notes before sending

Move-in condition checklist

When to use

- On the day the tenant receives the keys, with landlord (or agent) and tenant present. Both sign, both keep a copy.

Why it matters

- The landlord must hand over the property in good condition that allows full use as stated in the contract (Art. 15, as amended).
- At the end, the tenant returns the property in the same condition as received, except ordinary wear and tear or damage beyond the tenant's control (Art. 21). This checklist is the record of 'the condition received'.

How to fill it in

- Go room by room. Mark each item G, F, P or N/A and write a short note for anything not G.
- Photograph every room and each F or P item; write the photo numbers in the table and the photo log.
- Record meter readings and the number of keys and cards.
- Use the same list at move-out (template T08) so the two can be compared line by line.

What this template does not do

- This template is general information. It does not decide whether the rule applies to your situation, and it does not interpret your tenancy contract. Disputes are decided by the Rental Disputes Center (Decree 26/2013).

Legal basis (official sources, retrieved 2026-11-03)
